d. Create an article with own content

Risk for Change

In the past few months, uncertainty rocked my career life creating self-doubts, anger, discontent and lost of trust to those whom I looked up to as mentors. Self reflection and listening to motivational speeches are my go to activity during those days aside from prayer, of course. I also consider resigning due to the feeling of being unappreciated, unvalued and over worked.

I keep my pace trying to understand what my lapses are, trying to understand where they are coming from and what planning what my next moves are. In this stage, I realized that having self worth at work is one of the most important thing than the expectations of you higher ups. Working within your limits will make your career life a bit more easy if growth is no longer available.

In my quest for growth and self worth, I came across a video that showed me a walk of life where growth is unlimited and will challenge my mind and self to become better everyday. Deciding to pursue it is not an easy decision considering all aspects that it could affect.

Risk is my definition of change. Without risking, you achieve nothing. Staying in your comfort zone will make you helpless. So, i took the risk and grab it. After few days of learning, I found myself more focused, dedicated and very much eager to learn where self fulfillment is my reward and becoming 1% better everyday is my beiggest achievement.

3. Challenges:

Due to unfamiliarity with the codes and setting the first item in correct positioning, it took me a while to figure out how to:

- i. Put the first table at the center
- ii. Calculate the size of the images
- iii. Looking for video that allowed copying

However, once the first item was done according to how I planned it, everything followed smoothly.

4. Conclusion: Needs familiarity with the codes and how to use them.
